

Dear boss

I would like to attend Darren Wood's masterclass workshop: 'SASS: Taking your CSS to the next level'.

The workshop will be on Tuesday, 3 September 2013 from 9am-5pm at The Biz Dojo, Auckland.

Here are the reasons why you should send me:

We can't afford to fall behind

In the near future, all front-end developers will be expected to have experience in SASS. Now is the time to get up to speed!

I will come back better at my job

I get to come back to work refreshed, inspired and with new skills I'll be able to implement immediately.

We get to build projects faster and better

The workshop will improve my front-end workflow and speed up development time. I will also learn to produce highly optimised and modular code.

Darren is one of the smartest people I know. There is no better front-end developer for my money and I would jump at the chance to work along side Darren again. — Matt Horn, B.I. Consultant at Aphelion Software

Professional development makes me happy

Studies have shown clear links between workplace happiness and training. Morale will be at an all-time high.
